'Independent Home Health Care' Signs with Delta Health Technologies

Another new customer chooses Delta to provide homecare software technology

Altoona, PA – March 12, 2008 – Delta Health Technologies, LLC (“Delta”) announces its newest customer, Independent Home Health Care, has recently signed with the company. After careful consideration of its options, this Coeburn, VA based agency, chose to start utilizing Delta’s cost-effective and innovative Encore™ product suite.

“Out of all the software systems we considered, Delta impressed us with their cost efficiency and affordable product pricing,” stated Michael Hughes, Administrator of Independent Home Health Care. “Delta’s system made sense for us and will be instrumental in helping us streamline our process, eliminate paperwork, generate bills promptly, and help us save money. Most importantly, this system will help us meet our commitment to our patients to provide quality services in a timely and cost effective manner.”

Independent Home Health Care seeks to provide comprehensive and balanced services to those who are homebound with the goal of enabling each patient to maximize their rehabilitation and recovery. It hopes to achieve this through care, instruction, and outcome management guided by the attending physician while observing each individual's right to quality professional services.

“We are excited to welcome Independent Home Health Care to the Delta family,” said Keith Crownover, president and CEO of Delta Health Technologies. “Organizations like Independent Home Health Care have an array of options to fulfill their needs, and Delta is honored that they have chosen us. We know that we can work together to bring the highest quality of service to their patients.”
