Delta Releases Enhanced Version of Free 2008 PPS Calculator to Entire Home Care Industry
Enables any home care provider to import OASIS data

Altoona, PA – July 19, 2007 – With the initial release of Delta Health Technologies, LLC’s (“Delta”) free PPS Compare tool receiving an overwhelmingly positive reaction from the industry, Delta today announces the general availability of the latest, enhanced version of the free tool. This enhanced version of PPS Compare gives Delta and non-Delta customers the ability to import 2007 OASIS files and compares 2007 reimbursement to the proposed 2008 rates.

“Delta is dedicated to continually improving its products and solutions, and we believe that the new update to our PPS tool should be available to benefit anyone who may need it, not just our customers,” said Keith Crownover, Delta’s president and CEO. “Already, hundreds of people have downloaded the original tool, including customers, non-customers, consultants, the media, and even some of Delta’s competitors.”

The PPS Compare tool now has the ability to import any OASIS transmission file. This allows any home care provider to perform a large scale analysis of multiple surveys with a single click - unlike other tools that require the manual input of OASIS information patient by patient. The analysis allows providers to evaluate the projected gain/loss relative to the proposed 2008 reimbursement model. Select fields may also be edited for a dynamic recalculation of the estimated reimbursement using the analysis portion of tool.

Delta will continue to update the tool, free of charge, as revisions and clarifications are released from CMS. The free tool is available for download via Delta’s website www.DeltaHealthTech.com.
